FUNERAL OF LEMERT WILKES. Little Boy Fatally Burned While

Looking for Santa Claus. The funeral of Lemert Wilkes, the 4-yearold son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilkes, took place vesterday afternoon from the residence. No. 1422 Whittler street. The Reverend Mr. Ewing of the Taylor Avenue Baptist Church conducted the services. The body was conveyed to Bellefontaine Cemetery in a funer-veyed to Bellefontaine Cemetery in a funeral ear.

The death of the child was unusually sad. With anticipations of Christmas, the little fellow was put to bed Thursday night. A few minutes later, when no one-was observing, he slipped from his bed, and, in his night-gown, went to the fireplace, presumably to watch for some sign of Santa Claus. He rentured too near, and, in an instant his night-gown was in flames. They were extinguished by his mother, but the shock and inhalation of the flames proved fatal.

FOR PROTECTION OF MEMBERS.

Committee of Chosen Friends to Present Report Tuesday Night. Present Report Tuesday Night.

At a meeting of representative members of the defunct order of Chosen Friends, held at Howard's Hall, Garrison and Olive street, on the evening of December II, the day before the collapse proceedings were begun in Indianspolis, Ind., a member of the supreme body admitted its insolvency, where-upon a committee of five was appointed to devise and report a pian of action for protection of the membership.

This committee will present its conclusions to a meeting to be held in the same hall, at 8 p. m., Tuesday, December 15. It is expected all interested will attend.

MISSING FOR SECOND TIME.

Young Girl of Mattoon, Ill., Supposed to Be Kidnaped Again.

Matteon, Ill., Dec. 22—Cannine Holland, the 14-year-old foster daughter of Landlord Henderson of the City Hotel, at Newman, has again disappeared. The child was kidraped last Thanksgiving morning and only last week was found at Princeton, Ind., and brought back home. At her last disappearance she had no wraps and was bareheaded, which leads to the be-lief that the child has been abducted.

it hard to believe that this is really Sauta Claus's season. A thermometrical tomble, together with several inches of show, would bring the fact home to many skepties. However, the truth cannot be gainsold. Christians is close at hand and with it come peace, good will, releicing and anticipation. The century, too, has nearly claused, so that the opportunities for gazing alike into the past and the future are unique.

The average real estate agent will sigh as he thinks over the last few years, but his eyes may brighten at the thought of what the opening of a new century has in store. It is proper that at such a time the bullowel boys of Christmas should be partisken of to their fullest extent, and the real estate department of The Republic embraces the opportunity to wish each and every one of its readers the fullest realization of the happiness of the great festival.

During the week ending Friday evening 160 deeds, transierring realty were filed at the office of the Recorder, the total consist-erations named amounting to $55,352. (Three hundred and ninety-five thousand three hun-

Good Loan Going Regging. As an illustration of the ill effects of amendment No. 3, Precident Jax Maguire of the John Maguire Real Estate Company yesterday received a letter asking if he could make a loan of $50,000 at 6 per cent on property in a large; Missouri city, worth four times that amount. If the amendment had been defeated, a prominet insurance company, which is said to be withdrawing its loaning funds from the State, stood ready to make the loan at 5 per cent.

The secretarial force of the Real Estate Exchange is busy just now grappling with statistics for the annual report of the exchange, which will probably be published in next Sunday's Republic.

Lot 31 1-3x16, east side Cora avenue, between Garfield avenue and North Market street, in city block 379, was sold at auction on the floor of the Exchange December 19, it brought $1.16 cash.

President Macbeth, who represents the Real Estate Exchange on the new Committee on Public Welfare, will shortly call a meeting at the Exchange for the purpose of discussing the proposed amendments to the City Charter. Later on a meeting of members exclusively will take action on the amendments.

LADIES' DRAPED WAIST.

There Is Still Novelty in the Separate Bodice. Geranium panne and ivery lace over taf-feta were combined to develop this artis-tic waist. It is mounted on a glove-fitted lining which closes in the center front, the seams and darts being featherboned. The backs are faced with lace to a square yoke which is drawn down in a point at the cen-ter and fastens invisibly on the left side. Folds of the panne, arranged at the un-back than in front, and edged with a bard of panne.

$2, 34, 36, 38 and 40 inch bust

The close-fitting, two-piece sleeves terminate just below the elbows. The lace undersleeves are gathered at upper and lower edges and arranged on the velvet sleeves, the joining being hidden by folds of panne with rosettes at the elbows. The lace is adjusted on a tight wrist-band, which fastens with a jeweled lutton.

Lavely bodices in this mede may be developed in velvet, satin taffeta, brocaled silk or frosted moire, combined with lace, all-over applique, Persian embroidery, chiffon, or mousseline.

To make the waist in the medium size will require one and three-fourths yards of allover lace thirty-six inches wide for fronts and undersleeves, and two and three-fourths yards of twenty-two-inch velvet. The pattern, No. 858, is cut in sizes for a 32, 34, 35, 38 and 40 inch bust measure.

WILL WED HER MANAGER.

Miss Grace Howard Engaged to South Dakota Ranchman.

Chamberlain, S. D. Dec. 22—The marriage is announced of Miss Grace Howard, daughter of the distinguished New York journailst, to Joseph Mesnard, manager of her big stock ranch. They will make their home forty miles west of Chamberlain, on the White River.

Own fashion on the floor of the Stock Exchange. Change of the celebration was something worth travelling far to see, and if Banta Claus had anything to do with it, it must have given the tookles of his genial heart an extra warning to see the way grave, gray-headed brokers turned boys again.

Buils and bears and weak little lambs cut loose from all prosate business and capered around a mammoth Christmas tree, while thousands of spectators, mostly of the fair sex, looked on in laughter-chooked approval. The glittering tree that reared its stately, timed-crowned head in the lofty exchange undoubtedly was the biggest Christmas tree that will be found in New York this year. It stood some thirty feet high, and was planted on a platform over the Broad street entrance. Great ropes of holly and Christmas greens stretched from gallery to gallery, and up under the rafters on all sides. The tree was hung with ropes of gold and silver tinsel, and every branch bore dozens of gifts and ornaments.

There were scores of alsek builia, shaggy bears and innocent-looking lambkins. It was an awe-inspiring sight, and the brokers often threw admiring glances at it as they paused in their efforts to pound down as boost up a few stocks.

Women See the Fun.

Long before the hour set for the Christmas doings,—12:30 o'clock—the galleries legan to fill. Handsomely dressed works, came in throngs, many alighting from triages that hurried down Wall streeties. Broadway. Admission to the galleries we by ticket only, and many who triad to pathe doorkeepers without the bit of pathe board experienced a bitter disappointment.

By noon the galleries were packed and the executive offices scores of faces were to be seen at the windows. There was a before the big tree.

As the hand of the clock reached the big tree.

As the hand of the clock reached the big tree.

As the hand of the clock reached the center of the monotonously should be crowds of brokers, and, holding a big set in his left hand, banged away at it like said in the spectators held their breath.

"Here's where the monkey husiness come in." shrilled a messenger boy under the gallery, relieving some of the tension in the air.

in," shrilled a messenger boy under the sheley, relieving some of the tension in the air.

The brokers jumped upon benches and shouted eagerly for the show to best shouted eagerly for the show to best somebody made a megaphone with the hands and yelled to somebody else in the under the roof, "Ready, up there?" A base of music came from the platform in frest of the chairman's desk where the Sewarth Regiment Band had taken its place underserved in the general excitement.

The minute the first strains of "Asserted" reached his ears each and every bross gave vent to a yell of delight and smatched off his hat. At the same instance the case "1885-1990" appeared in figures of fire far wo over the Broad street entrance and handreds of tiny electric lights flamed out from the big Christmas tree. The dazaling spectacle drew forth a mighty roar of applaration from brokers and spectators.

While the crowds looked out, from unot the very caves of the lofty chamber came rolling dense clouds of confetti—green, red yellow, blue and every conceivable color. The mighty shower kept up for ten minutes until the big tree shone through a dense confetti fog.

Then, from the balconiea, were lowered half a dozen fatted calves of papler mache. For these the brokers scrambled eagerly. Small rubber balls were thrown on the foot, and a score of games of football were organized. Many women were admitted to the floor, the galleries being overcrowded, and they participated in the fun.

Rudolph Reppler, president of the exchange, made an address, in which he said the closing year of the century had been the most prosperous in the history of Walsertet.
